Creative Money Works inc

Attn: Nate Greenberg
NJ Board of Public Utilities (NJPU)

Dear Mr. Greenberg,

Creative Money Works Inc (CMW) a Camden New Jersey based charity that focuses on youth empowerment. One of the passions of young people is their concern with the environment and support of issues that include global warming and the importance of clean energy alternatives.

While we are not expert in this area, consistent with our mission, we support alternative and renewable energy facilities and integration of these facilities into the buildings and infrastructure that exist in the counties we serve. Community solar projects that enable greater access to solar energy have lasting community-wide benefits to our communities' ratepayers, especially to those low-and-moderate income households that specifically benefit from NJBPU's Community Solar Program.

CMW encourages the NJBPU to approve these types of community solar projects which CMW, as a local community organization, supports as they are beneficial for our charitable organization, our local economy, our environment, and the citizens of the communities we serve.

Sincerely,

lana posner
